The 17th Belgian Surgical Week

INVITATION FOR PARTNERS

Dear Partners from the Medical and Pharmaceutical Industry,
Dear Friends,

It is a real pleasure for me to invite all of you, on behalf of the Board of the RBSS, to the 17th edition of the Belgian Surgical week which will take place from May 19th to 21st, 2016

The BSW is organized by the Royal Belgian Society of Surgery in collaboration with the Belgian Societies of Vascular (BSVS), Oncologic Surgery (BSSO) and Trauma (BTrS) Surgery, the Belgian Associations for Cardio-thoracic surgery (BACTS), Ambulatory Surgery (BAAS), Pediatric Surgery (BELAPS) and Surgical Trainees (BAST), the Belgian Group for Endoscopic Surgery (BGES) and the different sections of the RBSS. For the first time our Allied Health Care Professional organisations, the 'Vlaamse Vereniging voor Operatiezaal-Verpleegkundigen' (VVOV) and the 'Association Francophone des Infirmières de Salle d'Opération' (AFISO) will officially take part in the meeting as does the Belgian Transplantation Society (BTS).

Several modifications have been made in relation to this important yearly event in order to bring surgeons from all different specialties together and to raise the scientific quality of the meeting.

First of all, the location of the meeting has been brought back, on the request of many colleagues, to the center of the country. The Square Congress Center, located in the very heart of Brussels at walking distance of the Central station, is an easily accessible, up to date meeting place having all modern infrastructure and facilities to make the meeting successful.

This Congress center also has the great advantage to offer to the medical and pharmaceutical industry a very modern and large exhibition hall which will not only allow you to 'work' in a more friendly environment but also offer you more possibilities to stay in contact with the surgical community. In order to further stimulate these personal interactions, the poster area will be also integrated within the exhibition hall.

Secondly, the duration of the meeting has been extended again to three days in order to give you more exposure and to offer our younger colleagues more opportunities to present their scientific work. The third day will end again with an afternoon 'hands-on' course. This course will also take place at the Square Congress Center.

The arching theme chosen for the 2016 BSW is:

"Cross fertilization between transplantation surgery and surgery".

Indeed, many surgical interventions performed today in the field of thoracic, cardiovascular, abdominal, urologic and orthopedic-trauma surgery derive from techniques and technologies that have been developed during the last decades in the field of organ procurement and transplantation. The best examples of this are kidney, liver, intestinal auto-transplantation and the use of vascular and osseous allografts in different types of complex cardiovascular and oncologic surgery. This congress is therefore not at all a transplant congress!

The two major plenary sessions will be devoted to surgical techniques used in cardiothoracic, abdominal, urologic and complex vascular and oncologic surgery. deriving from organ transplantation. Lectures related to technical innovations in the treatment of specific organ related diseases will be preceded by a short overview of the actual status of transplantation in Belgium. All lectures will be given by renowned national and international speakers. The addressed topics have been chosen in such a way that they will foster the interest to the non-transplant surgical community.

The presidential session, scheduled Thursday noon May 19, will focus on training in surgery. Frank IJPMA from Amsterdam and Oscar TRAYNOR from Dublin, will highlight the evolution of surgical training 'then' (training of the Amsterdam Guild of surgeons in the 16th century) and 'now' (the nationwide educational project of the Royal College of Surgeons of Ireland). Worthwhile to listen at...especially for our BAST group! A specific symposium will be dedicated to the requirements to become an academic, transplant and stress resistant surgeon. Furthermore two interactive sessions will be organized by the Belgian Association for Surgical Trainees (BAST).

For the first time, the Royal Belgian Society of Surgeons will also honor two prestigious surgeons by awarding them the honorary membership of the society. Professors Henri BISMUTH and JA.GRUWEZ have been awarded this honor.

As a follow-up of the successes during the Ghent BSW, six differed surgery sessions will be organized combining video-transmission of cardiothoracic, vascular and abdominal surgery and live commented by different national and international experts.

Besides the above mentioned sessions, several sessions will be devoted to free papers, speed poster dating and specialty sessions. In order to attract as many as possible delegates to the meeting rooms, different sections of the RBSS have set up interesting collaborative sessions.

For the first time our Allied Health Professionals, the surgical scrub nurses and surgical nurses, represented by the VVOV and AFISO will officially participate in the BSW2016! The main theme of the congress being related to transplantation surgery two 'nursing session' each have been set up as 'primers' in organ donation and transplantation surgery.

The board and the BSW scientific committee of the RBSS are very confident that you will appreciate the new location as well as design and content of the BSW2016.

We hope to see many of you at the BSW 2016..

Hoping to see you at the Brussels SUARE CONGRESS CENTER IN MAY 2016.

I remain, very sincerely yours, also on behalf of the board of RBSS

The Belgian Surgical Week represents 'the' major annual organization and activity for the Belgian surgical community. The aims of the BSW 2016 are as follows:

EDUCATIONAL NEEDS AND EXPECTED OUTCOMES:

The Belgian Surgical Week aims at continuously improving knowledge, skills and experience of surgeons in their different fields of expertise by raising the quality and attractiveness of the program. The target audience for the meeting includes all professionals involved in clinical surgical care and research as well as all health care allied professionals involved in surgery.

EXPECTED OUTCOMES:

Inform the delegates about the latest trends in transplantation and complex surgery related to transplantation. Discuss present and upcoming changes in the different fields of surgery. Present expert work and selected topics for focused discussions guide and instructed by international and national key opinion leaders. Make more visible the active role of surgery in daily clinical practice and research.

PROMOTION OF ACTIVE LEARNING AND LEARNER ENGAGEMENT:

Different interactive sessions are organized especially with the Belgian Association of Surgical Trainees (BAST). The last half day of the BSW 2016, Saturday 21st may will be related to hands on training on large animals and cadavers.

A good organization is based on a close collaboration between the RBSS, surgical societies, associations, RBSS-sections and medical and pharmaceutical industry. The success of this annual event is directly dependent of the investment of each part.

In order to have a smoothly running event, the RBSS board proposes the following code of collaboration:

- a total respect of the administrative/scientific meetings is mandatory; no other activity should be organized during the BSW;
- during the Friday evening social event, the 'Surgical Night', organized by the RBSS and BAST, all partners are welcome to participate and to invite surgeons to this event. These will easily be grouped by their inviting partner. It is not allowed to organize another event at the same time;
- the industry partners have the possibility to organize SATELLITE SYMPOSIA. Four slots are scheduled, one on Thursday and three on Friday. The content of these symposia is the responsibility of the medical industrial organizer. However, the final program must be approved by the RBSS board.
The satellite symposia will be integrated in and announced with the scientific program of the BSW.
- if an automotive industry will be present at the congress, no test drives will be allowed during either the scientific and administrative sessions nor the Surgical Night.
- all booths have to be dismantled FRIDAY EVENING.

Adhesion to all these measures will guarantee respect between the many stakeholders involved in the BSW and thereby avoids the necessity to undertake unpleasant measures. We thank all partners for their understanding and cooperation.

Logistic support for Partners

SEMICO THE PCO of the 17th BELGIAN SURGICAL WEEK

Dear Partners,

The Belgian Surgical Week, the Annual Meeting organized by the Royal Belgian Society for Surgery (RBSS) together with other Belgian Surgical Societies and Associations, is the unique opportunity for all surgeons practicing in Belgium to exchange the most up-to-date information, to see old friends and to meet younger colleagues.

This year, the 17th Belgian Surgical Week will be located in Brussels, the heart of Europe. We will discover a new location with new practical challenges: BRUSSELS SQUARE CONGRESS CENTER, Mont des Arts or Kunstberg, Brussels nearby the Central Station. The members of the Board of the Belgian Royal Society of Surgery have chosen as arching theme for the 17th Surgical Week 2016.

"Cross fertilization between transplantation surgery and surgery".

The Board of the Belgian Royal Society of Surgery has again honored SEMICO with the task of the practical organization of the Belgian Surgical Week. Our team will be there to assure that your involvement with the BSW2016 will be a success in all its facets. We feel very strongly that no medical congress can survive in time, if this partnership is not carried by both sides. As a Professional Congress Organizer we see as our main task to insure that the BSW2016 can be the catalyst for all further contacts between the industry and the delegates.

With this partner brochure we would like to start our cooperation and invite you to make a selection of the offered items that you would like to retain in your participation package.

We propose to invite you again to the congress location in Brussels beginning of 2016, so you will be able to see and feel the fantastic location for the Exhibition. If you have any questions concerning this partnership brochure, the opportunities offered or concerning our company and how we can assist you, please feel free to contact myself or my colleagues Dr. Ectors or Mrs Belgin Topkaya.

Looking forward to welcome you to the Belgian Surgical Week,

Luc Niville
Project Manager SEMICO
